ICAC statement

1 August 2013

In relation to the complaints received by the ICAC in late October 2012 against Mr Franklin Lam Fan-keung, a non-official member of the Executive Council, for alleged misconduct in public office and offering illicit advantages, the ICAC had completed its investigation and sought legal advice from the Department of Justice (DoJ). The DoJ decided that no prosecution would be instituted against the persons involved. The result of the investigation was reported to the independent Operations Review Committee which endorsed that no further investigative action needed to be taken. The ICAC has informed the complainants of the result of the investigation accordingly.
